

Correct assembly can be checked with the ch<sub>-</sub>primers and chV<sub>-</sub> primer pairs, and in-frame insertions assessed by sequencing.

The insert with the flanking regions is PCR-amplified with a proof-reading polymerase

The column-purified amplicon is used to transform pombe competent cells

Example for an N-terminal insertion

